

A transaction of digital currency is requested.

The request is sent to a group of computers called nodes.

The nodes verify your transaction and add the data to a digital ledger, which each node has a copy of.

Blockchain

Explore Sample A 1 of 1

