AP EUROPEAN HISTORY SYLLABUS

Course Overview

AP European History is a challenging college-level course that is structured around the investigation of five course themes and 19 key concepts in four different chronological periods from the Renaissance to the present. Besides covering the relevant historical facts from these eras and linking these facts to the analysis of the themes, the course requires you to master nine historical thinking skills. During the year, you will be provided with the opportunity to examine primary sources, such as documentary material, pictorial and graphic materials, maps, political cartoons, statistical tables, and works of art. In addition, you will be provided with exposure to both factual narrative and to the interpretations of European history from the perspectives of a variety of different writers and historians. Historiography is the history of history. You will be examining how people have thought about and written about historical events over the course of time. You will also be provided with the opportunity to develop your analytical and interpretive writing skills, practicing short-answer questions as well as document-based and long-essay questions. Besides the short-answer questions, you will be writing at least one essay in every unit.

Readings

Hunt, Lynn, Thomas R. Martin, Barbara H. Rosenwein, and Bonnie G. Smith. The Making of the West. 4th ed. Boston: Bedford/St. Martin's, 2012. [CR1a]

Testing

To assess your knowledge of each part of each unit in AP European History and to prepare you for the AP Exam, you will be required to show your understanding in the following test formats: Long-essay questions, Document-Based Question (DBQ) essays; Short-Answer Questions (SAQ); standard content-based multiple-choice questions; and stimulus-based multiple-choice questions. When the syllabus says “multiple-choice,” be prepared to answer both types of multiple-choice questions.

Thematic Essential Questions for All Units

1. Why have Europeans sought contact and interaction with other parts of the world?
2. What political, technological, and intellectual developments enabled European contact and interaction with other parts of the world?
3. How have encounters between Europe and the world shaped European culture, politics, and society?
4. What impact has contact with Europe had on non-European societies?
5. How has capitalism developed as an economic system?
6. How has the organization of society changed as a result of or in response to the development and spread of capitalism?
7. What were the causes and consequences of economic and social inequality?
8. How did individuals, groups, and the state respond to economic and social inequality?
9. What roles have traditional sources of authority (church and classical antiquity) played in the creation and transmission of knowledge?
10. How and why did Europeans come to rely on the scientific method and reason in place of traditional authorities?
11. How and why did Europeans come to value subjective interpretations of reality?
12. What forms have European governments taken, and how have these changed over time?
13. In what ways and why have European governments moved toward or reacted against representative and democratic principles and practices?
14. How did civil institutions develop apart from governments, and what impact have they had upon European states?

15. How and why did changes in warfare affect diplomacy, the European state system, and the balance of power?
16. How did the concept of a balance of power emerge, develop, and eventually become institutionalized?
17. What forms have family, class, and social groups taken in European history, and how have they changed over time?
18. How and why have tensions arisen between the individual and society over the course of European history?
19. How and why has the status of specific groups within society changed over time?

Unit 1: 1450-1648 [CR2]

[CR2] — Each of the course historical periods receives explicit attention.

Key Concepts:

- 1.1 The worldview of European intellectuals shifted from one based on ecclesiastical and classical authority to one based primarily on inquiry and observation of the natural world.
- 1.2 The struggle for sovereignty within and among states resulted in varying degrees of political centralization.
- 1.3 Religious pluralism challenged the concept of a unified Europe.
- 1.4 Europeans explored and settled overseas territories, encountering and interacting with indigenous populations.
- 1.5 European society and the experiences of everyday life were increasingly shaped by commercial and agricultural capitalism, notwithstanding the persistence of medieval social and economic structures.

Unit 1: Part 1

Review of Late Medieval Europe and the Renaissance

Unit 3: 1815-1914 [CR2]

[CR2] — Each of the course historical periods receives explicit attention.

Key Concepts:

- 3.1 The Industrial Revolution spread from Great Britain to the continent, where the state played a greater role in promoting industry.
- 3.2 The experiences of everyday life were shaped by industrialization, depending on the level of industrial development in a particular location.
- 3.3 The problems of industrialization provoked a range of ideological, governmental, and collective responses.
- 3.4 European states struggled to maintain international stability in an age of nationalism and revolutions.
- 3.5 A variety of motives and methods led to the intensification of European global control and increased tensions among the Great Powers.
- 3.6 European ideas and culture expressed a tension between objectivity and scientific realism on one hand, and subjectivity and individual expression on the other.

Unit 3: Part 1

The Industrial Revolution and its Consequences: The Rise of Liberalism, Marxism, Socialism, and Revolution

Dates: Jan. 6-17

Topics/Activities/Assignments:

- Theme – States and Other Institutions of Power: Congress of Vienna Simulation: Conservatism vs. Liberalism. Students will write an essay explaining why this led to the conflicts and revolt in Europe in 1848.
- Theme – Objective Knowledge and Subjective Visions: The Age of Romanticism. How was the Romantic period (also known as Romanticism or the Romantic era) a reaction against the age of reason? “Discovery Discussion.”
- Themes – Poverty and Prosperity, Individual and Society: WebQuest: The First Industrial Revolution. Why did it begin in England and how did it affect Europeans? What role did the state play in the promotion of industry?
- Students create a timeline of the Industrial Revolution in which they define the period separately and appropriately for various European nations or regions and determine what factors differentiate the first and second industrial revolutions.
- The Need for Reform: Examination of charts, graphs, statistics, and demographic analysis of society.
