

THE 10TH ANNUAL

AP® Report to the Nation

STATE SUPPLEMENT FEBRUARY 11, 2014

Table of Contents

- 3 State Strategies
- 7 Fostering AP® Participation and Success
- A Closer Look at Equity Gaps in AP Participation and Success

About This Report

This report provides educators and policymakers with information they can use to celebrate their successes, understand their unique challenges, and set meaningful goals to increase opportunity for all students. It's important to note that while AP® Exams are valid measures of students' content mastery of college-level studies in specific academic disciplines, AP results should never be used as the sole measure for gauging educational excellence and equity.

Because reliable demographic data for nonpublic schools are not available for all states, this report represents public school students only. Additionally, this report looks at students' entire experience with AP—tracking exams taken by graduates throughout their high school careers—as opposed to reporting exam results from a particular calendar year.

Additional data are available at apreport.collegeboard.org.

Note: Throughout this report, public high school graduates represent projections supplied in Knocking at the College Door (Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education, 2012).

The redesigned courses, Biology, Latin, and Spanish Literature and Culture, began in fall 2012, and the first AP Exam based on those redesigned courses was administered in May 2013. As a result, the data in this report reflect a blend of the old and redesigned exam results.

THE 10TH ANNUAL AP REPORT TO THE NATION  $\cdot$  PENNSYLVANIA SUPPLEMENT STATE STRATEGIES

Pennsylvania has made progress in recent years in improving student access and supporting student performance in AP®. Just as we do in the national report, we wanted to take an opportunity to applaud your efforts and offer additional strategies for your consideration.

Current Picture

Congratulations. You are already using these strategies to build a robust AP program. You:

- Include AP in the state accountability system.
  - Use AP participation and performance indicators.
  - Set clear, measurable statewide goals toward improvement.
- Celebrate the 40 districts that have earned a spot on the AP Honor Roll through their hard work and dedication to increasing participation and success in AP, particularly for underrepresented students. See page 6 for more details.
- Encourage your educators to participate in the development of the AP Program, such as by becoming AP Exam Readers or participating in course and exam development committees. See page 5 for more details.

Opportunities

The following strategies have been proven effective. To build an even stronger AP program, you could:

Leverage School Supports Tab on School Performance Profile to provide schools with resources to improve their AP programs.
Ensure that all AP teachers have attended an AP Summer Institute.
Leverage the Intermediate Units to provide support for professional development for teachers and administrators in underserved areas of the state.
Provide learning opportunities for principals and counselors, via Intermediate Units and webinars, for understanding how to use AP Potential $^{\text{IM}}$ to inform the scheduling process and expand AP course offerings.
Communicate how AP fits into state graduation requirements, and share information about funding opportunities that enable students to participate and succeed in AP.
Ensure that public colleges and universities develop AP Exam credit and placement policies based on institutional goals, alignment with corresponding courses, and objective outcomes research.
Leverage the Intermediate Units to create opportunities for othe schools and districts to learn from your AP Honor Roll winners.
Provide targeted assistance and resources to PDE identified "Focus Schools" and schools serving traditionally underserved populations. For example, funding for materials, supplies, outreach efforts, and tutoring programs.
Communicate the advantages of AP for students attending your state's universities.
Develop policies that allow AP course work and exam scores to substitute for statewide graduation requirements. Finalize AP cut scores in Biology, English Literature, and Calculus that will allow students to be exempt from the corresponding Keystone exam.
Provide resources to schools and districts to support research-based programs that build content knowledge and skills—particularly in literacy and math—to prepare students for success in AP course work, and in college and careers

The AP Honor Roll

The AP Honor Roll recognizes and honors those outstanding school districts that simultaneously increase access to Advanced Placement® course work while increasing the percentage of students earning scores of 3 or higher on AP Exams. Achieving both of these goals is the ideal scenario for a district's AP program because it indicates that the district is successfully identifying motivated, academically prepared students who are likely to benefit most from rigorous AP course work.

ABOUT THE COLLEGE BOARD

The College Board is a mission-driven not-for-profit organization that connects students to college success and opportunity. Founded in 1900, the College Board was created to expand access to higher education.

Today, the membership association is made up of over 6,000 of the world's leading educational institutions and is dedicated to promoting excellence and equity in education. Each year, the College Board helps more than seven million students prepare for a successful transition to college through programs and services in college readiness and college success—including the SAT®, and the Advanced Placement Program®. The organization also serves the education community through research and advocacy on behalf of students, educators, and schools.
